AUSTIN LETTER.

Matters Political—Superintendent of the Mint, Linderman—Geo. Robeson—A Few Shots from One Who Knows both Men.

Editor Gazette: In the future history of the United States, the present decade will probably be distinguished as the "Investigation Era," and the future generations will probably be able to reverse the generally received proposition, that "things are getting worse every day," that is, if they believe all that is said about the men investigated. It is unfortunate that newspaper literature is ephemeral, and President Hayes would be handed down as worse than Catiline or Arnold, and beside whom Louis Napoleon would stand deified, and coup d'etat, an act of pure patriotism and unselfish ends, compared with the dark conspiracy against poor Sammy. But while there is in some cases, in others there is more truth than is really comfortable, and when we consider the manner of appointments, the elevation of common pot-house politicians to places of honor and trust; places requiring both talent and integrity, is it wonderful that a bit of base metal should now and then get into the crucible, and turn out mere dross?

There are two prominent officials, whose names have been so often connected with "jobs," some of them pretty loud jobs, too, and both of whom I have known personally, and I may be pardoned if I say a word regarding them, more as respects the personal characters of the men than their alleged crookedness of which I know nothing, except by inference.

THE FIRST IS OUR PRESENT

Director or Superintendent of mints, Dr. Linderman. When he was first appointed to the mint at Philadelphia, men who knew the man, stood and wondered. He was an illiterate, Pennsylvania Dutchman, who had a "demon," but no patients; a mere ward of "San," with nothing to recommend him, but his talent for manipulation and brass. A stolid, sandy-haired, flat-footed, unattractive fellow whose only distinguishing feature was a pretty showy, dashy, brunette of a wife, and when he was appointed Superintendent of all the mints, men had already ceased to wonder, and accepted it as one of those things "No fellow can find out." He has just one prominent characteristic—selfishness—which must be a bump as big as a camel's hump.

SOME YEARS AGO

I inhabited a cottage at a watering place on the Atlantic coast and became acquainted with a short-necked, round-shouldered fellow who, with his family, boarded at a neighboring hotel. He had been employed in a dry goods warehouse till during the war, when gold became the gambling fever, he had relinquished his situation to speculate at the gold room, where he was soon fleeced. I met him again five years ago in the coal regions of Pennsylvania traveling as an insurance agent and walking on his uppers. Two years ago I met him at the Lick house in San Francisco, in the employ of the United States mint, as a general entrepeneur, supervising contracts, etc., which usually means selling them. This was A. B. Linderman, the Doctor's brother, for whom he had provided, and whose name is connected with the alleged abuses, rightfully or wrongfully I am not called upon to say, but I have an opinion.

WHEN GENERAL GRANT appointed as Secretary of the Navy Mr. Adolph E. Borie, my near neighbor at that time, Mr. Borie found that his heavy personal business would not permit his continuance in the office and he looked around for a successor who would not be likely to forget him in any fat contract, and found that man in an obscure village lawyer, Geo. M. Robeson, at that time practicing in Camden, New Jersey. I was connected in business with a near relative of Mr. Robeson, whose father, Judge W. P. Robison of Belvidue, was my intimate friend, and at whose house I have spent many a week during fishing season, in company with the late Secretary—a red-faced, bluff fellow who wore glasses, and an inveterate gormand and a dull companion. He may have been a good lawyer, but no one ever discovered it.

DURING THE WAR he was appointed by the Governor of New Jersey to muster in troops, and it was said he mustered in quite as many rations as troops. He is said to be rich now. I am very certain he was not before his appointment, but it is probable he feathered his nest when he married a widow. I do not know, but I have a conviction that if he did not, he would never have married that widow.

Here are two men whom, as I have said, I have known personally; and certainly two men more unfit for their positions it would be difficult to find. This may not interest you, but it is one of the abuses of our system, perhaps unavoidable, and the public too rarely understand, and an abuse which will continue as long as the price for a seat in Congress is the appointment of the men who secure votes or manipulate the returns, to places which more nearly concern the people than does that of their Representatives.

These cases and kindred ones call loudly for some system of civil service which will secure for us men fitted for their places, and save us the expense and scandal of investigations, usually brought about for political ends and from no spirit of patriotism. I've had my growl, and feel better.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

U. S. Marshal Pitkin, of Louisiana, Mrs. Jenks and A. G. Haley were examined Wednesday before the Potter fraud committee in reference to the trumped up letter of Secretary John Sherman. Nothing new was elicited, save the fraudulency of this letter was made more apparent.

We acknowledge the receipt of the first number of the Eureka Daily Leader. It is a neatly gotten up paper, is independent-Republican in politics, and is edited by Messrs. Fisk & Canfield. We wish our new exchange prosperity. We have stolen a local from it already.

The young Queen of Spain is dead. She had been married to King Alfonso but five months. She was a beautiful woman, and but eighteen years of age.

Settings.

— Read that Austin letter.
— The thermometer touched 90 in the shade to-day.
— Mr. Alexander is expected home in the mornig.
— A quantity of general news and editorial matter has been crowded out.
— Dr. S. Bishop is on a visit to friends and relations in and about Eureka.
— The prospects for a hurdy house in Reno during the races are very poor— bombs are too cheap.
— Everybody should attend the sale of paintings in Marshall's building. It will be continued this evening.
— We understand that a number of the residents at Peavine will celebrate the 4th of July at Independence lake.
— Mr. Courtney is constructing two excellent stone walks, forty feet long and four feet wide, for Mr. Manning. These are the walks, gentlemen.
— Panther mining stock has been assessed ten cents per share, delinquent July 27th. Husy boats of a 15-cent assessment, delinquent July 24th.
— The evening express train was delayed about half an hour Wednesday evening by the accidental breaking of one of the parallel bars of the engine near Franktown.
— Our lady readers will find the local ad. of Mrs. Elliott of interest. Her goods speak for themselves. The advertisement directs the addressed where to go.
— If you would have any regard for your head covering, ye readers of the masculine persuasion, stop at John Sunderland's and examine his late stock of summer hats.
— Marion Little, who owns a ranch north of Carson, cut a young man named Roberson with a spade and shot him in the elbow yesterday afternoon.
— DISBANDED. — Four members of Washoe No. 2 met last night and agreed to disband. They turned the hand engine over to the fire department and gave their trumpet to McFarlin. They were in a quandary what to do with the company's house money on hand. We presume that it will also be turned over to the department.

Sodie Gush.

A Fourth of July without soda water is like an oyster without vinegar, an egg without salt, a kiss without a mustache. If there is in reality such a thing as gush of the patriotic sort, it is the effervescent quashing of the syrup of our sires as it sizzles forth from the down discharging vent of a soda fountain. Willis, tearing asunder the stoutest ties of affection, abandoned the soda fountain of his youth, leaving it in Thaxter's hands. There it stands; there it squirts! My young friend, you of the love which lodges in Arabella's soft and throbbing heart, do not forget that fountain! Go to it; trust in it; patronize it; bid it a brief good bye, and then fetch yourself and your dear, nose-betragled darling back to it again, and give her another treat. —Carson Appeal.

The above quite neatly expresses what we have been tempted to say of Messers. Osburn & Shoemaker's soda fountain. Mighele has furnished the item, however, and his fresh style will add but zest to your indulgence in the sodic draught.

Man Found Dead.

About 7 o'clock this morning Mr. L. W. Lee went out to his back stable and found J. W. Carey, as it subsequently proved dead. The circumstances of this peculiar case are as follows: A man came from Virginia city nearly a week ago, and asked permission of Mr. Lee to sleep in his barn. Mr. Lee granted his request. Lee gave him something to eat and supposed that in a day or two the man would be well enough to go about his business. Last night Carey was seen and appeared as well as usual. But when Mr. Lee call a second time this morning he found him dead. He appeared to be a man of more than ordinary information, is an American by birth and about fifty-five years of age. The Coroner's inquest was held this afternoon.

Race Items.

Among those in Reno we notice Jasper Babcock and Jos. Stewart from Virginia City, H. M. Yerington, J. T. Pantlind, J. D. Minor, Bob Pixley and J. Kersey from Carson are in attendance at the races. The pool selling last night was not very heavy on to-day's races. In the trotting race South Platt and Jewess sold even; two others in the field. In the running race, Hattie D. and Ramrod sold even, a third horse in the field. The following is the programme for to-morrow— Running, dash of one-half mile; purse $50. Trotting, purse $125; mile heats, three in five to harness; free for all that have not beaten three minutes. Trotting, 150; two mile heats two in three to harness; second horse $30. Pools sell this evening at the Arcade hotel.

RETURNED.—Mr. Louis Walker, who has just returned from the Santa Fe mining district in Esmeralda county says that the mining claims in that district are looking findly, and several of them promise to prove very rich mines. We saw a number of specimens from the Rabel claim which would assay several hundred dollars to the ton. This district lies 120 miles south of Wadsworth, which is the nearest point of railroad communication. We are glad to hear of the prosperity which threatens to come upon several of our citizens who are largely interested in this new field.

*ALMOST A FIRE.—About one o'clock last night Mr. Wm. Getchell put out a fire which had caught in some lumber in the Reno lumber yard. The fire evidently originated from a spark, which escaped from the wood engine and had lodged in some sawdust, where it very gradually ignited this dust and afterwards developing into a flame set some lumber on fire. Had Mr. G. not discovered this fire for five minutes longer, several thousand feet of lumber would have been consumed!

LITERARY.—We are informed that three young ladies of the burg are engaged in writing a novel. From the originality as well as the ability of the ladies, we can but predict a ready sale of the work when it is presented to the public. They expect to have the manuscript ready for the printer in about two weeks. Reno will take several hundred copies, Carson will gladly patronize, and the Comstock will prove a bonanza.

CALDONIA PICNIC.—From the Gold Hill News we learn that the Caledonia club of Virginia city have decided to hold their annual picnic at Dall's ranch, August 10th. It will be made a grand affair. All the popular national games will be given on the occasion and many beautiful and valuable prizes will be distributed.

Coroner's Verdict.

The Coroner's jury in the case of the Italian, John Isola, who was killed by a falling ore bucket on Tuesday morning in the Jones & Kinkead mine, yesterday afternoon rendered its verdict. This verdict gives few facts in addition to those already published. John had been dipping up water in the sump of the 330-foot level, and at 9 o'clock sent up his first load of ore to the surface. He started the bucket on the wrong guide. The result was, when the bucket had nearly reached the top, the rope was drawn at an angle across the sheave. In this position the rope was cut by the parts immediately around it, and the bucket of course fell at once on the unfortunate man. He was about thirty-eight years old and is the first man ever buried at Pyramid. No blame can be attached to the owners or foreman of the mine. The accident resulted purely from the carelessness of him who paid the penalty with his life. The burial was plain, and few words were said as the last remains of the first man ever interred in this mining camp was laid in the lap of his aged mother and covered from the view of man by her component parts.

Catarrhal Generosity.

This morning we received the most remarkable advertising proposition that has ever been received at this office. A gentleman represented as an aged and wealthy man, J. P. Mountain, residing in Ogdenburg, New York, has a remedy which he asserts will cure consumption, catarrh, asthma, headache and nervousness. He sends the recipe free to any person sending for it, with instructions for preparing and using the medicine, requiring only that the person so sending enclose a stamp to pay the postage. His proffer to us was that we insert about thirty-five lines in the Gazette for one year and send him the paper, and all for two cuts—one, of a horse being driven in a sulky, and the other of an eagle with spread wings. But any reader suffering from any or all of the above complaints can, for three cents, get a recipe of what may be of great value or of no value whatever. We have suffered with catarrh and have been informed by friends (?) of innumerable remedies, but a simple application of salt and water will always furnish relief.

GRAND BALL.—From Mr. Sanders, who has just returned from Bowers' Mansion, we learn that Nat Holmes proposes to give a grand ball at the Mansion, on the evening of July 3d. Mr. S. says that this place has been elegantly fitted up by Mr. Holmes, and is one of the finest places on this coast for a picnic. The building has been recarpeted, and in a word refurbished throughout. The grounds are clean and provided with swings, croquet grounds, etc., for the accommodation and convenience of the public. The shade trees are numerous, well trimmed and of the best varieties, as well as artistically located. The large bathing pond is certainly a most attractive feature. The water is just warm enough and of the right depth and bathers are furnished with suits. Bowers' Mansion is now in the right man's hands. Those who visit this lovely spot and fail to enjoy themselves would find Paradise a dull retreat.

FISH OUTRAGE.—The dam owned by the People's Ice Co., on the Truckee has effectually and fatally barred the progress of every fish which has reached it. Five hundred pounds of trout were grab-hooked below this dam in a single night last week, and were shipped to the Virginia market. Mr. McGlashan to the front. Such outrages should be stopped. But it is sufficient for McGlashan to learn of these facts, and he will take steps to immediately compel the Peoples' Ice Co. to put in the necessary fish-ladders.

OFFICERS.—The following named gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year at a regular meeting of Truckee Lodge, No. 4, I. O. O. F., held at their hall last evening: Noble Grand, F. C. Updike; Vice-Grand, J. C. Harnes; Secretary, Wm. Lucas; Permanent Secretary, G. W. Cunningham; Treasurer, Isaac Fredrick; Trustees, C. C. Powning, J. H. Kinkead, R. W. Ash.

—We have in our possession an interesting letter from Naples, written by a brother of one of Reno's ex-business men. We hope to give our readers the benefit of its perusal on to-morrow.
